

Ain't It The Truth?

You used to shed tears because your mother wouldn't let you play with those bad Jimson boys:

Your idea of a bath was to splash around in a muddy "Swimmin' hole:

But now you're so fastidious that you'll only smoke one brand of cigarettes:

Nothing but MECCA!

Ain't It The Truth?

A poor tobacco-crop year in Turkey cannot affect MECCA Quality. Hundreds of thousands of pounds of choice Turkish leaf are always kept in reserve—growing mellow all the time.

Sporting Notes.

The Boston teams faced Alexander and Johnson and neither Boston team won Saturday.

The Giants forced Brooklyn to go 12 innings before losing their seventh straight game Saturday.

Jennings used six pitchers and four pinch hitters in an effort to hold that alleged joke club, Cleveland, yesterday.

Low, released Saturday by the Boston National club, has reported to Springfield of the Eastern league and will be tried out at shortstop.

Olsen of the Brooklyn Nationals with a batting average of .545 and Miller of the St. Louis Americans with an average of .500 lead their respective leagues.

Dartmouth presented four runs to Brown at Hanover, N. H., Saturday in the first inning and then, with a record crowd watching, went to work and won the game, 5 to 4.

Merkle of the Giants won an automobile Saturday by hitting a sign on a fence at the Polo grounds. The sign had been up since the opening of last season and no player had hit it with a fly ball until Merkle turned the trick.

Manager Stallings has cut the Braves to the limit of 21 men. He has released to Cincinnati Knott, a pitcher. Others who have gone from the squad are Lee, former Tufts third baseman; Low, former Dartmouth shortstop, and the Shannon twins, all of whom were given their unconditional release. Blackburne, a catcher, went to the Providence club.

It would appear that Fulton, the Minnesota plasterer, was too much for Al Reich. What Fulton needs is a right hand punch, but far more, the ability to protect a weak jaw. Reich, with one blow in the first round, made Fulton's knees sag, but Fulton's left jab was too fast for him after that and he was unable to repeat.

BRATTLEBORO DROPS CLOVER LEAGUE GAME

Unable to Hit Montville at Bellows Falls—Poor Support Given Shea Helped Pile Up Runs.

Inability to hit the effective pitching of Montville of Bellows Falls high at Bellows Falls Saturday was the primary cause of the defeat of Brattleboro high in the first Clover league game of the season of both teams. A copious supply of errors by the Brattleboro team helped to make the final score 10 to 2. Besides the exceptional pitching of Montville a one-hand stab of a sizzling grounder by Gallup was the feature. While Shea, who pitched the entire game for Brattleboro, was hit hard at times the steady support of his fielders had the most to do with the loss of the game by such a score.

Bellows Falls scored twice in the first on a pass, an error, two stolen bases and an out. There should have been no run scored in this inning.

Three more came in the third, with one out. A batter hit, a disastrous error by Shea, a pass and Adams's error in center put them over. Not a hit counted towards the first five runs. In the fifth two singles, two errors at short, a stolen base and a wild pitch contributed two more to the swelling total. A single, steal, pass and two errors carried two more over in the seventh and an error, an out and a sacrifice fly accounted for the final one in the eighth.

Brattleboro scored in the fifth on a pass, two passed balls and Kelley's error. Brattleboro's other run was made on an error by Howard and two singles.

Montville fanned nine opponents in the first four innings. H. Plumb fell a victim to his delivery all five times he was at bat and Gallup and Adams each succeeded in three out of their four attempts. The summary:

THREE RECORDS EQUALLED.

In Second Day's Events of Relay Races in Philadelphia.

In the running of the second day's events of the 22d annual relay races on Franklin field at Philadelphia, Saturday three world's records were equalled. In the two-mile college championship event, the Yale team won by 20 yards over Chicago, which was 10 yards in front of Michigan. The Wolverines led Princeton and Pennsylvania by a large margin.

Cornell romped away with the four-mile championship race, leading from the start and finishing in 17m 51.1-15s, equaling the world's record held by the quartet of the Boston A. A. made in 1913. Wisconsin and Pennsylvania were the only other teams entered.

The one mile college relay championship resulted in a victory for Harvard over Princeton, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, which teams finished in the order named. The time was 3m 19s, one second slower than the record.

The high hurdle special event was a victory for Simpson of Missouri, who in winning in 15s flat equalled the world's record held by F. W. Kelly of Southern California, made in 1913 and 1914. The race was run on the turf. Grubb of Cornell was second and Ames of Illinois was third.

Munks of Wisconsin contributed the one new college record in the discus throw, raising the figures from 140ft 2.3-in to 145ft 11.1-in.

AMHERST WON GOLF MATCH.

Collegians Defeated Brattleboro Country Club by 12.5 Score.

The Amherst college golf team defeated the Brattleboro country club 12.5 on the local links Saturday. The showing of the home players was remarkably good considering they had not practised this season, some of the players not having swung a club until they entered the match. Fred Harding Harris and Owslow Thompson were both winners, and Dennison Cowles, after a poor start, played a fine game against Jacob Estey of this town, and won a point by leading his opponent on the last nine holes. The scores were as follows:

Amherst.	Brattleboro.
Sibley,	3	Miller,
Young,	1	Thompson,
Bailey,	0	Harris,
Estey,	2	Cowles,
Evans,	3	Dunham,
Hardy,	3	Brittan,

Frederick W. Kelley, international champion high hurdler, broke Saturday at Los Angeles, Cal., the world's record for the 220-low hurdles on a curved track, making it in 24.5 seconds. The previous record was 24.5 seconds, established in 1908, and equalled last year by Kelley. Half an hour before, Earl Thompson, a University of Southern California freshman, defeated Kelley in the 120-yard high hurdles and tied the world's record of 15 seconds. The latter mark previously had been equalled by both runners. The contests were under Amateur Athletic Union sanction.
